THE REMEMBRANCE GARDEN

The Remembrance Garden, located on South Brandywine Circle across from where Turnberry begins, is a major project of the Brandywine Garden Club. First designed by Helen Johnson Hendry in 1998, the garden has changed dramatically through the years.

Funding for the garden comes from memorial donations from friends and families of deceased Brandywine residents, although the Garden Club has made sizable gifts from time to time. Routine garden care is provided by volunteers, mostly (but not all) Garden Club members.

In order to memorialize these residents for whom donations have been made, a Remembrance Garden Book (now two books) has been prepared. Ernie Gudridge continues to design pages for these books with a separate page for each honored resident. These volumes which are personal and very unusual are displayed in the Tennis Clubhouse. To date over 80 residents have been honored by donations. To make a donation please contact Rosemary King at 288-7533.
